Return to School Stable Cohort or Full Distance Learning

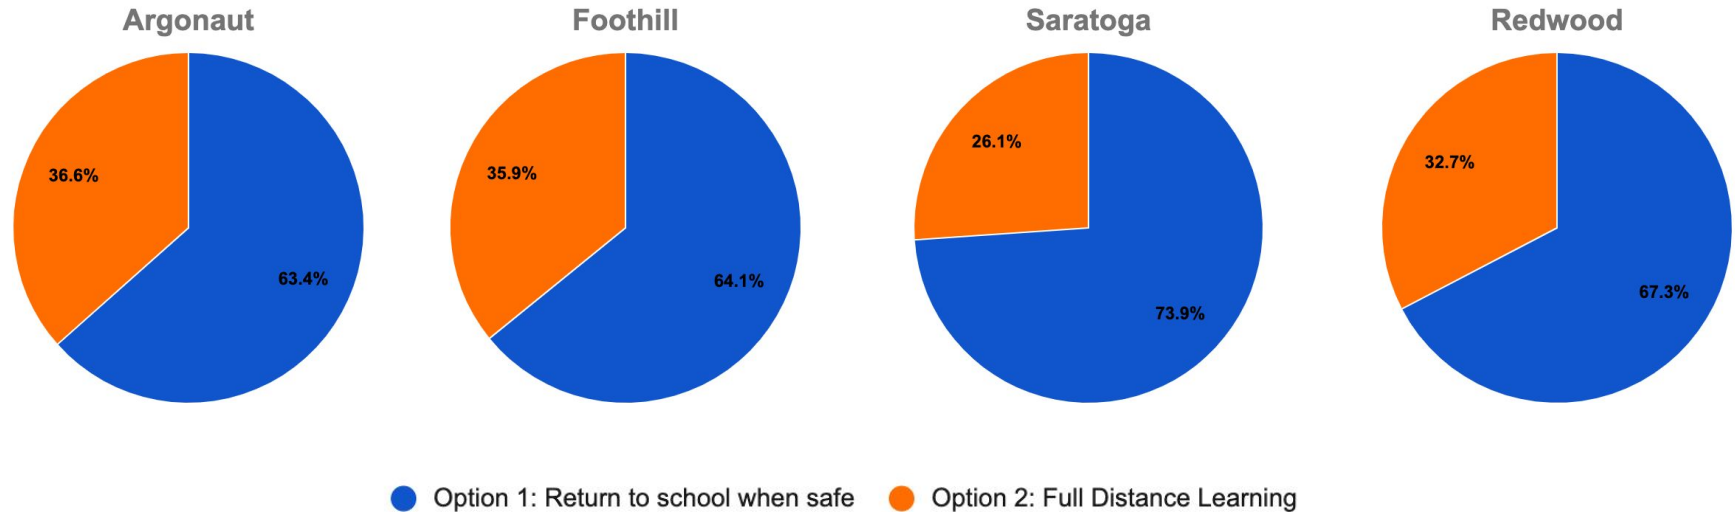

Based on what you know today, which learning option are you more comfortable with for Fall 2020? (We understand that specifics have not been published yet.)

762 responses

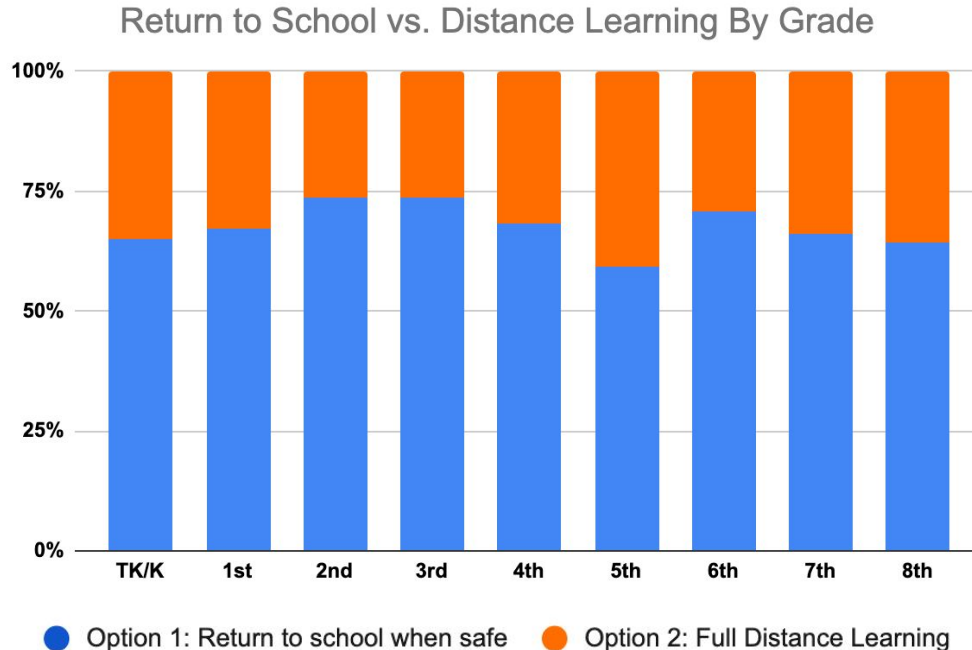

- Option 1 - Return to School. My child(ren) will start the year in distance learning and then return to the classroom as part of a stable cohort as soon as it is safe to do so per the county public health department.
- Option 2 - Full Distance Learning. My child(ren) will remain in full distance learning for the entire fall semester (note: for families enrolled in SUSD last year, there is a chance your child may not be able to return back to the same school as last year depending on enrollment and class sizes at time of reentry).
